

The Narwhal is incorporated as a non-profit society under the B.C. Societies Act. We are funded by individuals and foundations that care about climate change, democracy, science and the environment. We are proud to earn the financial support of nearly 2,000 readers through one-time donations and monthly memberships. In addition, we are grateful to accept funding from philanthropic foundations that support our mission.

As a part of our donor transparency policy, we disclose most donors who give The Narwhal more than $5,000 in a fiscal year, with the only exception being for those individuals who request anonymity due to privacy concerns.
